Sun-Dried-Tomato-Stuffed Eggs

- 12 eggs
- 8 sun-dried tomatoes (not in oil)
- 2 tablespoons capers, drained and chopped
- 1 large shallot, finely minced
- 1 tablespoon Dijon mustard
- 1/2 cup mayonnaise
- 4 tablespoons thinly sliced fresh basil, divided

Place eggs in a large saucepan. Fill with cool water. Bring the water to a boil over medium heat. As soon as it boils, reduce the heat and simmer the eggs for 20 minutes. Fill a bowl with ice cubes and cold water and set aside.

Meanwhile, place the sun-dried tomatoes in a microwave safe bowl and cover them with water. Microwave for 2 minutes, then let them set for several minutes until they have softened. Drain on paper towels, then finely mince.

When the eggs are cooked, lift them from the pan using a slotted spoon and place them in the cold water. Chill completely, then peel and slice them in half lengthwise. Remove the yolks and press them through a potato ricer or mesh strainer to break them up into small pieces.

Combine the yolks, tomatoes, capers, shallot, mustard, mayonnaise, and 2 tablespoons of basil in a small bowl. Stir to combine.

Fill a pastry bag fitted with the star tip with the egg yolk mixture. Pipe the filling into the egg whites and garnish with the remaining basil. If you don’t have a pastry bag, cut the tip off of a resealable bag to pipe in the filling, or use a teaspoon. Cover the eggs with plastic wrap and chill until ready to serve.

Recipe from Los Angeles Times

Quesadilla

- Large flour tortillas
- Green onion, sliced
- Grated cheese, either mild or sharp cheddar or Monterey Jack
- Sliced mushrooms
- Black olives, sliced
- Fresh tomatoes, diced
- Olive oil, grape seed oil, or butter

Optional: Chicken pieces, skinless, cooked and chopped

Heat a large cast iron frying pan to medium high heat. Add a small amount of oil or butter, about a teaspoon, and spread around the bottom of the pan with a spatula. Take 1 large flour tortilla and place it in the pan. Flip the tortilla over a few times, 10 seconds between flips. Take a handful of grated cheese and sprinkle over the top of the tortilla, making sure that the cheese does not land on the pan itself. Add some green onions, sliced mushrooms, tomatoes, and black olives. Add some chopped cooked chicken if you wish it to be a chicken quesadilla. Take care not to layer on the ingredients too thickly – this is a quesadilla, not a quiche!

Reduce the heat to low and cover the pan. The pan should be hot enough by now to have plenty of residual heat to melt the cheese and brown the tortilla. If the quesadilla begins to smoke too much, remove from heat. After a minute, check to see if the cheese is melted. If not, return the cover and keep checking every minute until the cheese is melted. When the cheese is melted, use a spatula to lift up one side of the tortilla and flip over the other the other side, as if you were making an omelet. The tortilla should now be browned slightly. If it is not browned, turn the heat up to high and flip the quesadilla every 10 seconds until it is browned. Remove from the pan and cut into wedges.

Serve with salsa, sour cream, and guacamole.
